

A SOFT VETEBRA

WAKENING OF SPINE CAUSE OF PRESIDENT'S CHANGE OF FRONT

HIVEERS WITH THE WIND

An Analysis of Political Situation and Its Bearing on the Presidential Succession.

By VAN CLEVELAND.

Washington, D. C., June 27.—No lost mariner was ever more at sea than the leaders of the Republican party are now. As stated in these columns some time ago it is morally certain, barring accidental intervention, that Mr. Taft will be the next Republican presidential nominee. He will have vigorous and determined opposition, but it will not prevail against him. It has been given out by the friends of Mr. La Follette that he will certainly be a candidate and that, in due course of time, he will launch a dramatic campaign such as will send a cold chill down the standpatters' back. Senator Clapp of Minnesota, one of the ablest and most level headed of the insurgents, has openly declared that he will do all he can to help Mr. La Follette secure the nomination. Other friends of the Wisconsin senator are active in trying to produce some sort of a situation in the legislative game that will insure to his benefit.

Senator La Follette and his following will cut a considerable swath in the northwestern states, and they can do irreparable damage to the "Taft smile," but the man in the chair has all the advantage. As an evidence of this it is only necessary to mention the following facts: The tremendous army of federal employees creates a force that cannot ordinarily be overcome when it gets in action. The postmaster general is the president's political agent, and the chairman of the national committee. He and the other departments control 384,088 employees with salaries aggregating more than $345,000,000 annually. Directly or indirectly the president enjoys the power of removal or promotion over this great army, to say nothing of the gratitude due from an employee to an employer. The southern states, which do not contribute much to the election of a Republican candidate, nevertheless furnish 238 out of a total of 598 delegates to the national nominating convention. It naturally follows that those most interested in a Republican convention in those states are Republican office holders. It takes 491 votes to secure a nomination in a Republican convention, where the majority is obtained, and the difference between 491 and the 338 is just 153, which is the number he must secure in the eastern, northern and western states. Therefore opposition is practically useless.

The insurgents have no love for the president, because he has never manifested any deep seated love for them. When they were struggling for existence his attitude indicated the most profound contempt for their cause, and it has been only since his efforts to exterminate them failed and the election returns indicated an unexpected strength in insurgent sections that he has been pleased to recognize this at the public crib and show a conciliatory interest in them. This being the case the insurgent is disposed to endure rather than embrace Mr. Taft.

But Mr. Taft has been guilty of such vacillating amenities that neither does the standpatter feel the same confidence and security in him that they once did. This is disconcerting to the leaders, because it affects the prospects for shrews of war as well as votes. Mr. Taft's "views" on the various public questions form a most interesting maze of inconsistencies. He went into office on the Republican platform of 1908, that very ingenious, flexible and indefinite production that declared "the true principle of protection is best maintained by the imposition of such duties as will equal the difference between cost of production at home and abroad, together with a reasonable profit to American industries." The interpretation of the word "reasonable" depended upon who was at the throttle. The "interests" were in the cab in 1908, and the congress that was elected with Mr. Taft was the first in the Payne-

Aldrich law, the rottenest piece of legislation ever conceived to plunder the public in the interest of the trusts. The law has now but few defenders, although in operation only two years.

Mr. Taft approved this legislation with his signature and it became a law. During the last campaign he went about the country trying to help elect another similar congress, and declared the Payne-Aldrich law "the best tariff law that has yet been enacted." He later on admitted that certain schedules were "indefensible." Then he negotiated a reciprocity treaty with Canada that does not touch those schedules which he declared "indefensible," and called a special session of congress to ratify this commercial treaty. The most he could get out of the last congress was the appointment of a "commission" to study and report on the tariff.

A few days ago he made a speech in Rhode Island, in which he stated that the Chinese tariff wall was doomed and the day had passed when manufacturers must ask for more protection than they need. Then he came back to Washington and sent word to congress that he is opposed to tariff legislation until next session, or until his tariff commission shall make a report. This tariff commission has been in existence now eighteen months, and all congress has been able to get out of it was a report on the day the house passed the wool bill, stating that it did not yet have any information to give out. Eighteen months and don't know anything yet. The president insists on waiting for their "expert" recommendations, and there is not an expert on the whole commission. The clerk of the ways and means committee of the house knows more about the tariff than the whole commission.

The president's course with respect to the tariff is paralleled by his attitude on the anti-trust law. Since his advent to the presidency he urged upon congress in a special message the danger that some court might introduce into the law by judicial interpretation the theory of the "rule of reason," and called upon congress to amend the law so as to forestall that possibility. Some weeks ago the supreme court, in its decision in the Standard Oil case, did just that very thing and the president approved it. Some senators immediately introduced bills to amend the Sherman law, but he let it be known that he was opposed to any change in it, and these bills are sleeping the sleep of the just in some obscure pigeon hole. The decision in the Union Pacific railroad case the other day may be regarded as the first echo of the final interpretation of the law.

There is no criticism of the president's purposes in these observations. He is exceedingly anxious to please everybody, and being unable to ignore the plausible arguments of the friends of opposing views, the weather vane responds to the latest wind. He is not attempting to imitate the fluctuating flippancy that caused such frequent reversals in the career of his predecessor, but is simply the victim of a softening of the vertebral column.

So the legislative situation is summed up in a brief statement by Champ Clark that "if the Republican senate beats our bills, or President Taft vetoes them, we will appeal to the country and it will sustain us." This is a fact the senate cannot ignore. The people last fall ordered a revision of the tariff, the house is responding to the order, and if the senate blocks the work they are afraid to go back to the people. The president declared the wool schedule "indefensible," and if he vetoes the bill that gives relief from the Payne-Aldrich law, which he himself declared indefensible, it will put the president in an indefensible attitude, and, incidentally, the Republican party, of which he is the leader. The house has passed a number of very important bills and neither the president nor the senate can go before the country with any justification for defeating any of them.

If these bills are passed by the senate and the president signs them, the Democrats will have succeeded in fulfilling their promises to the people and the glory is theirs. If they are defeated by the president and his followers, the Democratic house will most certainly be reinforced by a Democratic president if not by a Democratic senate. Every way they look is gloom for the Republicans, and that is one reason why every time the senate comes together to do business they conclude to adjourn for a few days and think it over some more.

FOR ANOTHER TRAIL

AN EAST AND WEST CROSS STATE ROAD PROPOSED.

PAPERS ARE BOOSTING IT

It is Urged That a Road From St. Louis to Omaha Shall Be Constructed.

Since the establishment of the "Saints Highway" through Maryville, many towns to the east and west of Maryville are agitating the establishing of a North Missouri trail for motorists, starting at Rockport and going east through Tarkio, Burlington Junction, Maryville, Albany, Gallatin, Chillicothe, Brookfield and east parallel with the Burlington railroad to Hannibal, and then on to St. Louis. Up to the present time little effort has been made for such a trail.

The Atchison County Mail of Rockport, in its last issue, had the following in regard to the new trail:

Everywhere throughout the country we are hearing of the establishment of "trails" principally for the use of motorists, but not necessarily confining their use to these modern speed vehicles. A pathfinder passed through Rockport some weeks ago, looking over the country in establishing a trail from Des Moines to Kansas City. Another trail that has been laid out is called the Ayr Line Trail, and goes from St. Joseph to Mt. Ayr, Ia. Still another that was agitated some time ago was to go from Clarinda to Mound City and be called the Nodaway Valley Trail. Some details were planned, but the proposition was later dropped.

Now comes the Burlington Junction Post and urges what would be another excellent route through North Missouri, the trail to start at Rockport and run through Hannibal, on the Mississippi river, via Tarkio, Burlington Junction, Maryville, Albany, Gallatin, Chillicothe, Brookfield and direct east, parallel with the Hannibal & St. Joseph railroad to Hannibal. According to the Post such a proposition should prove successful, and, if agitated, would probably be given the support of all the towns through which the trail passed. We might go further and add that the trail be extended to Hamburg and other Iowa points, continuing on to Omaha.

It has been suggested that the most practical way in which to establish this trail would be for each town to meet its neighbor half way, drag the roads, repair the bridges and blaze the trail by marking posts along the route. This route would cross the "Saints Highway" at Maryville and give the motorists in Northwest Missouri a choice of four routes to different points in this state and Iowa.

LOOK FOR A BIG CROWD IN CITY ON 4TH

The Fourth of July celebration in Maryville promises to attract many people to this city next Tuesday. It has been well advertised, and since there are only two towns in the county that will celebrate, a banner crowd is expected to be in attendance.

A good strong program has been prepared, including many free attractions. Then there will be good baseball games between Falls City and Maryville, one game to be in the morning and one in the afternoon, at the ball park. Falls City is leading the Mink league at present and Maryville is a close contender for the place. These games will be hotly contested. Many other special features are arranged for.

The basket dinner will be one of the special features of the day. It is to be in Normal park, and all the conveniences necessary will be provided for the comfort of the out-of-town people. As the attractions during the afternoon are to be held in Normal park, seats and other conveniences will be provided. In the evening the attractions will be around the court house square.

Many of the business houses will close from noon on that day. A special invitation is extended to all to attend the celebration and be the guests of Maryville on that day.

NEARING COMPLETION

All of the concrete which was torn up from the floors of the building this summer has been hauled and dumped along the drive. It will be crushed and spread over the drive, and on top a finer dressing will be applied, insuring a firm, dry road under all conditions.

From the Anderson Restaurant—No Clues Have Been Discovered This Afternoon.

PASSED THROUGH CITY ON WAY TO HONOLULU

A large gray fifty horsepower Stoddard Dayton automobile arrived in Maryville Friday on its way from New York to Honolulu. The trip is being made in the interests of the American Sanitary works of New York City, and is purely a business venture. The party is composed of Mr. B. O. Tilden, president of the American Sanitary works, and Mr. William White and L. P. Gladdin of Kansas City. They are visiting their agents, the architects, planners and two authorities of the cities through which they pass in the interest of their sanitary plumbing fixtures.

The car left New York April 20th, and its total mileage is 7,146. The trip has been a round about one through South Carolina and other southern Atlantic states, north to Pennsylvania, through West Virginia, Ohio, Tennessee, Kentucky and then west. They expect to reach San Francisco August 10, where they will embark for Honolulu.

The car is especially equipped for any kind of an emergency.

One of the most interesting attachments on the car is a ten-pipe Gabriel horn and keyboard, which can be played upon like an organ. The music of this horn brought many people from the stores onto the streets as the car passed through town this afternoon.

CLEANER FOOD AS THE RESULT OF A STATE LAW

Missourians are to have cleaner food as the result of a state law which became effective Monday, June 19. It regulates the handling of all food products and provides for the sanitation of buildings where the food is made or handled.

The law regulates the sanitation of bakeries, canneries, confectioneries, restaurants, hotels, groceries, markets, and all other places where food is prepared, stored or distributed. One of the main provisions is the necessity of having screened all buildings where food is offered for sale. This is a move against the fly and will result in a large sum being paid for screens.

The new law is very complete. It is not a revision of the pure food law, but fits in with it, providing for the distribution of foods in a sanitary way.

The fly screen provision is as follows: The doors, windows and other openings of every food producing or distributing establishment during the fly season shall be fitted with self-closing screen doors and wire window screens of not coarser than 14-mesh wire screen.

To insure cleanliness on the part of persons engaged in making foods, the law provides that all operatives, employees, clerks and others who handle material from which food is prepared, shall, after having left their work temporarily, wash their hands and arms thoroughly with soap and clean water. Cuspidors are provided for and they must be cleaned out daily. Promiscuous spitting is prohibited in the following language: "No operative, employee, or other person shall expectorate on the floor or sidewalks of any building, room, basement or cellar where the production, manufacture, packing, storing, preparation or sale of food is conducted."

Sleeping is prohibited in any room of a bakery, kitchen, dining room, confectionery, or place where food is prepared, served or sold.

Twenty diseases are enumerated, the possession of which will disqualify persons working in places where food is made or distributed. Minute directions are given in the law for the sanitary arrangements of the buildings affected and provision must be made for the comfort of employees.

The penalty for a violation of the law is a fine of $10 to $100 or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than thirty days, or both fine and imprisonment.

NEWS OF SOCIETY AND WOMEN'S CLUBS

Marguerite Cummins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Cummins. All were in complete Japanese costume, and the bride even wore the veil, and all acquitted themselves most charmingly, as did also the ladies in waiting, Misses Mayne and Anna Dooley, Miss Charlotte Murrin, Mrs. P. M. Gallagher of Houston, Texas; Miss Frances Smith of Oklahoma City and her guest, Miss Winnie Remley of Columbia, Mo. There was much tea drinking and salaams innumerable through the ceremony, but they went through it all without a mistake. The Japanese room was very popular all evening, and its beauty showed much work on the part of those in charge, who were the ladies in waiting at the wedding. They served ice tea and wafers in true Japanese style, and cherries, and gave tiny fans as souvenirs. The costumes were decidedly fetching.

The Indian room was another fine place, and if there was one thing lacking to make it a perfect Indian home on the banks of a river, it is not known what it could be. The scenery was beautiful and the collection of Indian regalia was complete. Miss Mayne Tobin, who was in charge, served a most refreshing drink, that looked like "firewater." A real Indian canoe looked tempting by the river, tied to a tree, while the company of Indians in full costume, enjoying their meal of corn and beans in true Indian fashion, was fascinating to everybody.

The German room, in charge of Mrs. John Hansen, Mrs. Burt M. Rowley and Mrs. R. G. Koch, was made to represent a German garden perfectly. Iced buttermilk in mugs, sandwiches, pretzels, coffee and schmierkase made the fine Dutch lunch that was served here. The ladies were in full Holland colors, red and black, with the Stars and Stripes and German flag waved among the trees of the garden.

From the many colors in these rooms it was refreshing to go to the Irish room, where the bright green and gold of Erin's isle was so beautifully shown. The flag owned by the Irish-American society of Clyde was much admired. One that attracted much attention was dated July 13, 1879, which date marked the beginning of the I. A. B. society, that resulted in the organization of St. Patrick's church. Killarney roses and shamrocks were effectively used among the decorations in the Irish room, and a golden harp on the piano, bordered with shamrocks, completed everything.

The singing of Irish ballads Thursday night was by Richard and Dennis Collins, Miss May Parle and Miss Anna Collins.

The ladies of St. Patrick's parish are to be congratulated on the success of the opening. The weather was exceeding hot and prevented many from coming, but it was successful beyond their expectations. It was one of the prettiest church events that has taken place in our city.

Mrs. B. O. Fleming left Thursday evening for St. Joseph and Savannah.

Elder Ogden will speak at the gospel tent meeting tonight.

GETTING DOWN TO BRASS TACKS.

Getting right down to brass tacks, there isn't another investment in the whole range of securities accessible to Missourians that promises so large and certain a dividend as the new state capitol enterprise. The outlay of the two cents on the $100 assessed valuation, required to rebuild the capitol, will come trooping back in dollars of increased value in farm lands and town lots. Demands for homes sends the price of real estate soaring; home-seekers pass by the non-progressive, moss-back states for the ones populated by a live, wide-awake, progressive people. Let Missourians refuse to rebuild her state capitol and land buyers will forget that she is on the map—who wants to locate in a dead state full of knockers? But flash the news over the world as the sun comes up on August 2d that Missourians are live wires, who do things; that a new capitol is to rise, Phoenix-like, from the ashes of the old one, splendid and adequate in all its appointments; that the proposition carried by practically a solid vote, and you will see the tide of immigration start for this magnificent commonwealth. All eyes will be turned toward Missouri, and the real estate men in all states about us will be telling their customers what a goodly heritage of land and people we have.

A CAPITOLLESS CAPITAL.

Missouri, the greatest state in the Union, is the only state that has no capitol building. This fact does not reflect upon the enterprise and loyalty of Missourians, and will not until they vote down a proposition to rebuild the capitol destroyed by lightning, which will be never. Just watch the spirit of progress in this grand old state embrace the first opportunity to build a new capitol.

IN DEFENSE OF ROOSEVELT

Madison of Kansas Answers Attack Made by Earle.

MADE APPEALS IN WRITING.

Witness Says Former President Did Not Send All Correspondence in Case to Senate and Ready Some of the Letters.

Washington, June 30.—An attack on former President Roosevelt on the ground that he had not presented the so called sugar trust, made before the house sugar committee by George H. Earle of Philadelphia, aroused a vigorous defense of Mr. Roosevelt by Representative Madison of Kansas, who said the former president relied on Attorney General Bonaparte for advice and there was no evidence before the committee to show he had acted from improper motives.

Mr. Madison insisted upon reading Mr. Bonaparte's decision in the sugar trust case, upon which he declared Mr. Roosevelt had to lean.

"You gentlemen will never prosecute anybody if you try to find excuses for officers who neglect their duty," said Mr. Earle.

"I am not attempting to excuse Mr. Bonaparte," said Mr. Madison. "The president of the United States relied on his law officer for advice and there is no evidence before this committee that the president acted from improper motives. I don't agree with the opinion of the attorney general. I am one of those people of Kansas who still believe in the integrity of Mr. Roosevelt."

"It is just that you should," said Mr. Earle. "I'll trust the people of Kansas to judge whether it is right for the president not to act when he knew that his ad interim attorney general, Mr. Purdy, was anxious to proceed and that there was valuable evidence that might be lost."

"I offered to debate this matter with Mr. Roosevelt in New York, but he did not accept my challenge and neglected an opportunity to overwhelm me. Do you think the people of Kansas will say that the president did his full duty in neglecting that case? How are you going to punish crime if you are constantly changing law officers and do nothing in the interim?"

Letters to Roosevelt Read.

Mr. Earle read again the letters that Mr. Roosevelt did not send to the senate with the correspondence in the case.

"I criticized the president for that," continued Mr. Earle. "Mr. Roosevelt told the senate that it was right to send the correspondence to the senate and then he did not send the communications from me that might have reflected upon him. If that was right, then I was wrong."

"Do you have any doubt that Mr. Roosevelt was a sincere opponent of the immoral practices of great organizations of capital?" asked Representative Hinds.

"I would rather not answer that question," said Mr. Earle.

After reading the history of the case, Mr. Earle touched upon the tragic results, including the physical collapse of Adolph Segal, the death of Gustave Kissel and the suicide of Frank H. Hipple.

Chairman Hardwick queried the witness about the tariff matters. "I think with Garfield," said Mr. Earle, "that the tariff is a good thing when it leads to free trade."

Then the testimony shifted to an argument on the Sherman anti-trust law, and reviews of supreme court decisions.

"I have my suspicions of anyone who would change the Sherman act," said Mr. Earle. "It is the best tested law in the world and dates back to the time of Zeno in Greek and Roman times."

Adolph Segal of Philadelphia, so ill that his counsel asked the committee to be considerate of him, testified about the blocking of his efforts to sell the stocks and bonds of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company. He declared that he believed at the time that Mr. Havemeyer was responsible for his difficulty.

Mandate Issued in Tobacco Case.

Washington, June 30.—The supreme court issued an order to the attorney general, directing him to instruct the lower courts to carry out the supreme court's decision, providing for the dissolution of the American Tobacco company. The thirty days allowed the company to ask for a rehearing has expired.

Kansas City, June 30.—George B. Longan, assistant superintendent of schools in this city and originator of the Longan system of primary numbers, died at his home here, aged sixty-three. Mr. Longan was born on a farm in Benton county, Missouri.

Waterways Bill Defeated.

Springfield, Ill., June 30.—The waterways bill, which was passed by the Illinois senate, failed to receive in the house the two-thirds favorable vote necessary to advancement to second reading and was referred to the waterways committee by Speaker Adkins.

Bulls and One Cow.

Kirkville, Mo., June 30.—New world's records for Jersey cattle were made here when two bulls and one loch farm sale. Viola's Golden Jolly,

Queen, Island of Jersey, was sold for $13,000 to Dr. Scoville of the Ellendori Farms, Lexington, Ky. He was purchased by Dr. Still and Laughlin of the Kinloch Farms for $12,000 two years ago, which was the record price at that time. Jolly Royal Sultan, a two-year-old bull, son of the first named and Lady Viola, sold for $10,
000. Majesty's Lady Houhla, six years old, brought $3,525, said to be the biggest price ever paid for a Jersey cow.

Washington, June 30.—President
Taft has under consideration the with-

Berney Harris, Maryville's Leading Clothier

I am enabled to put on this wonderful cut price sale "without any loss to me" caused principally by two large deals which I made. One was purchased from M. Wile & Co., Buffalo, N. Y., Clothes of Quality makers—surplus spring stock of Men's Blue Serge and Fancy all wool Cassimer and Worsted Suits at extremely low prices.

The second being from Ferguson McKinney D. G. Co., St. Louis, on their "well known own makes" of Shirts, etc. During May they wrote me several letters asking if I would do my part so they could show an increase for May of "One Hundred Thousand Dollars." I took no notice of same until their representative called and asked him what Ferguson McKinney D. G. Co., would do for me, if I helped them get this increase, which I presumed they wanted for advertising purposes—we came to an understanding, I now give the patrons of this sale the full benefit of this great deal.

Glue pieces of felt or pieces of old rubber to the bottom of the chair legs, and there will be no scratched floors and less noise.

Emergency glue may be made of a handful of rice in water. It is a thick fine paste. Very good for white paper.

When a ham or smoked tongue has been boiled, try plunging it in cold water as soon as removed from the fire; this will make the skin come off easily and smoothly.

A handy way to remove pies and cakes from a hot oven is to use a common shingle. Cut away the thick end into the shape of a handle. Bore a hole in it and keep the shingle hanging behind the store.

If you have some work to do in the sun and have no sunbonnet, take a suit and butter, half and half, is between piece of paper, pin it together behind, run a string over the top and through a slit at each side, and tie it under the chin. It may rattle a good deal but may save you a headache.

String beans cut with a pair of sharp scissors, on a slant, instead of straight across, will cook more quickly if one happens to be pressed for time. This may seem a notion, but I have tried it often, and have found the beans to cook quicker than when broken straight across in the usual way.

Free Remedy For Weak Bowels

There are two forms of bodily cleanliness, the external and the internal. The one is for your pride in yourself; the other for your life and health. Both are important, but of vastly more importance in the long run is the internal cleanliness.

This is one point that all should watch about their body—the cleanliness of the bowels. Keep them clean and free from obstructions. To do this you must have one or two movements of the bowels each twenty-four hours. If your system does not do this naturally, in the process of eating and drinking, then you must obtain aid of some kind. After finding out that cathartics, salts and such things relieve you for a day, but bind you up worse than ever the next day, then try a simpler and more natural remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

For the skeptical the best way to begin is to send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell for a free sample bottle. Use it as directed and if it convinces you that a brief continuance of its use will relieve you permanently—that it will train the stomach and bowels muscles to again work naturally at certain hours—then buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing. They begin with a sample bottle, then bought a fifty-cent bottle, and now, fully convinced of its merits, they buy the one dollar family size. All the members of the family can use it down to the very youngest.

A brief use of this grand laxative tonic will cure constipation in its worst form, indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach, such ailments and keep you in continuous good health at a very small cost. Such is the experience of many families like that of Mrs. Oscar Flesher, Unionville, Ind. J. P. Daniel, Saron, Tex., and hundreds of others that could be named.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postcard as otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 11309 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Everybody Knows Something About Lumber Values

these days, but the homebuilder who listens to the cry of "wait until lumber is cheaper" is not apt to be any nearer his goal on his deathbed than he is today.

The Government recommends TIMBER CONSERVATION and this alone is proof that lumber has a fixed value.

Our years of experience in buying and selling lumber lead us to advise our friends that NOW'S THE TIME TO BUILD. There's but one crop of timber for most of us. If you contemplate a new home we want to talk with you—we have all grades of lumber. The lowest quality starts at good and goes up. Give us a call and learn the facts about these lumber values.

SAVE YOUR HAIR; SAGE TEA WILL DO IT

Dandruff, Itching Scalp and Falling Hair Quickly Stopped.

There is one place where bald-headed men shine, and that is in the front row seats of the theatre. If these bald-headed people had used Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy in the earlier days they would not be so conspicuous now. This preparation does not plant new hair, but it does stop the weak, dying hair, and not only brightens, but gradually restores the color to faded or gray hair. It is a clean, wholesome hair dressing, which can be used daily with perfect safety.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is sold under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Koch Pharmacy.

Dear Amy:

When a woman has a handsomely furnished home, she is free and independent from the "criticism" of those who come to her house. She can feel that she is socially free, because she can ask anyone to come to see her. Her husband's business standing, too, is judged by the way he keeps up his home. I'll tell you, Amy, it pays far more than it costs to have your home looking presentable.

A SOFT VETEBRA

WAKENING OF SPINE CAUSE OF PRESIDENT'S CHANGE OF FRONT

HIVEEERS WITH THE WIND

An Analysis of Political Situation and Its Bearing on the Presidential Succession.

By VAN CLEVE.

Washington, D. C., June 27.—No lost mariner was ever more at sea than the leaders of the Republican party are now.

As stated in these columns some time ago it is morally certain, barring accidental intervention, that Mr. Taft will be the next Republican presidential nominee. He will have vigorous and determined opposition, but it will not prevail against him. It has been given out by the friends of Mr. La Follette that he will certainly be a candidate and that, in due course of time, he will launch a dramatic campaign such as will send a cold chill down the standpatters' back. Senator Clapp of Minnesota, one of the ablest and most level headed of the insurgents, has openly declared that he will do all he can to help Mr. La Follette secure the nomination. Other friends of the Wisconsin senator are active in trying to produce some sort of a situation in the legislative game that will lure to his benefit.

Senator La Follette and his following will cut a considerable swath in the northwestern states, and they can do irreparable damage to the "Taft smile," but the man in the chair has all the advantage. As an evidence of this it is only necessary to mention the following facts: The tremendous army of federal employees creates a force that cannot ordinarily be overcome when it gets in action. The postmaster general is the president's political agent, and the chairman of the national committee. He and the other departments control 384,088 employees with salaries aggregating more than $345,000,000 annually. Directly or indirectly the president enjoys the removal or promotion over this great army, to say nothing of the gratitude due from an employee to an employer. The southern states, which do not contribute much to the election of a Republican candidate, nevertheless furnish 338 out of a total of 590 delegates to the national nominating convention. It naturally follows that those most interested in a Republican convention in those states are Republican office holders. It takes 491 votes to secure a nomination in a Republican convention, where the majority is obtained, and the difference between 491 and the 338 is just 153, which is the number he must secure in the eastern, northern and western states. Therefore opposition is practically useless.

The insurgents have no love for the president, because he has never manifested any deep seated love for them. When they were struggling for existence his attitude indicated the most profound contempt for their cause, and it has been only since his efforts to exterminate them failed and the election returns indicated an unexpected strength in insurgent sections that he has been pleased to recognize them at the public crib and show a conciliatory interest in them. This being the case the insurgent is disposed to endure rather than embrace Mr. Taft.

But Mr. Taft has been guilty of such vacillating amenities that neither does the standpatter feel the same confidence and security in him that they once did. This is disconcerting to the leaders, because it affects the prospects for snivels of war as well as votes. Mr. Taft's "views" on the various public questions form a most interesting maze of inconsistencies. He went into office on the Republican reform of 1908, that very ingenious, flexible and indefinite production that declared "the true principle of protection is best maintained by the imposition of such duties as will equal the difference between cost of production at home and abroad, together with a reasonable profit to American industries." The interpretation of the word "reasonable" depended upon who was at the throttle. The "interests" were in the cab in 1908, and the congress that was elected with Mr. Taft gave him information in the Payne-

Aldrich law, the rottenest piece of legislation ever conceived to plunder the public in the interest of the trusts. The law has now but few defenders, although in operation only two years.

Mr. Taft approved this legislation with his signature and it became a law. During the last campaign he went about the country trying to help elect another similar congress, and declared the Payne-Aldrich law "the best tariff law that has yet been enacted." He later on admitted that certain schedules were "indefensible." Then he negotiated a reciprocity treaty with Canada that does not touch those schedules which he declared "indefensible," and called a special session of congress to ratify this commercial treaty. The most he could get out of the last congress was the appointment of a "commission" to study and report on the tariff.

A few days ago he made a speech in Rhode Island, in which he stated that the Chinese tariff wall was doomed and the day had passed when manufacturers must ask for more protection than they need. Then he came back to Washington and sent word to congress that he is opposed to tariff legislation until next session, or until his tariff commission shall make a report. This tariff commission has been in existence now eighteen months, and all congress has been able to get out of it was a report on the day the house passed the wool bill, stating that it did not yet have any information to give out. Eighteen months and don't know anything yet. The president insists on waiting for their "expert" recommendations, and there is not an expert on the whole commission. The clerk of the ways and means committee of the house knows more about the tariff than the whole commission.

The president's course with respect to the tariff is paralleled by his attitude on the anti-trust law. Since his advent to the presidency he urged upon congress in a special message the danger that some court might introduce into the law by judicial interpretation the theory of the "rule of reason," and called upon congress to amend the law so as to forestall that possibility. Some weeks ago the supreme court, in its decision in the Standard Oil case, did that very thing and the president approved it. Some senators immediately introduced bills to amend the Sherman law, but he let it be known that he was opposed to any change in it, and these bills are sleeping the sleep of the just in some obscure pigeon hole. The decision in the Union Pacific railroad case the other day may be regarded as the first echo of the final interpretation of the law.

There is no criticism of the president's purposes in these observations. He is exceedingly anxious to please everybody, and being unable to ignore the plausible arguments of the friends of opposing views, the weather vane responds to the latest wind. He is not attempting to imitate the fluctuating flippancy that caused such frequent reversals in the career of his predecessor, but is simply the victim of a softening of the vertebral column.

So the legislative situation is summed up in a brief statement by Champ Clark that "if the Republican senate beats our bills, or President Taft vetoes them, we will appeal to the country and it will sustain us." This is a fact the senate cannot ignore. The people last fall ordered a revision of the tariff, the house is responding to the order, and if the senate blocks the work they are afraid to go back to the people. The president declared the wool schedule "indefensible," and if he vetoes the bill that gives relief from the excesses of this schedule in the Payne-Aldrich law, which he himself declared indefensible, it will put the president in an indefensible attitude, and incidentally, the Republican party, of which he is the leader. The house has passed a number of very important bills and neither the president nor the senate can go before the country with any justification for defeating any of them.

If these bills are passed by the senate and the president signs them, the Democrats will have succeeded in fulfilling their promises to the people and the glory is theirs. If they are defeated by the president and his followers, the Democratic house will most certainly be reinforced by a Democratic president if not by a Democratic senate. Every way they look is gloom for the Republicans, and that is one reason why every time the senate comes together to do business they conclude to adjourn for a few days and think it over some more.

Went to McFall.

Mrs. Byron Christie and baby daughter, Mildred Margaret, went to McFall Friday to visit Mr. Christie's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Christie. She was accompanied by Mr. Christie's grandmother, Mrs. Nero Pulsifer of McFall, who had been visiting here for several days.

It is necessary for correspondents to send their names and addresses to the editor.

FOR ANOTHER TRAIL

AN EAST AND WEST CROSS STATE ROAD PROPOSED.

PAPERS ARE BOOSTING IT

It is Urged That a Road From St. Louis to Omaha Shall Be Constructed.

Since the establishment of the "Saints Highway" through Maryville, many towns to the east and west of Maryville are agitating the establishing of a North Missouri trail for automobiles, starting at Rockport and going east through Tarkio, Burlington Junction, Maryville, Albany, Gallatin, Chillicothe, Brookfield and east parallel with the Burlington railroad to Hannibal, and then on to St. Louis. Up to the present time little effort has been made for such a trail.

The Atchison County Mail of Rockport, in its last issue, had the following in regard to the new trail:

Everywhere throughout the country we are hearing of the establishment of "trails" principally for the use of motorists, but not necessarily confining their use to these modern speed vehicles. A pathfinder passed through Rockport some weeks ago, looking over the country in establishing a trail from Des Moines to Kansas City. Another trail that has been laid out is called the Ayr Line Trail, and goes from St. Joseph to Mt. Ayr, Ia. Still another that was agitated some time ago was to go from Clarinda to Mound City and be called the Nodaway Valley Trail. Some details were planned, but the proposition was later dropped.

Now comes the Burlington Junction Post and urges what would be another excellent route through North Missouri, the trail to start at Rockport and run through Hannibal, on the Mississippi river, via Tarkio, Burlington Junction, Maryville, Albany, Gallatin, Chillicothe, Brookfield and direct east, parallel with the Hannibal & St. Joseph railroad to Hannibal. According to the Post such a proposition should prove successful, and, if agitated, would probably be given the support of all the towns through which the trail passed. We might go further and add that the trail be extended to Hannburg and other Iowa points, continuing on to Omaha.

It has been suggested that the most practical way in which to establish this trail would be for each town to meet his neighbor half way, drag the roads, repair the bridges and blaze the trail by marking posts along the route. This route would cross the "Saints Highway" at Maryville and give the motorists in Northwest Missouri a choice of four routes to different points in this state and Iowa.

LOOK FOR A BIG CROWD IN CITY ON 4TH

The Fourth of July celebration in Maryville promises to attract many people to this city next Tuesday. It has been well advertised, and since there are only two towns in the county that will celebrate, a banner crowd is expected to be in attendance.

A good strong program has been prepared, including many free attractions. Then there will be good baseball games between Falls City and Maryville, one game to be in the morning and one in the afternoon, at the ball park. Falls City is leading the Mink league at present and Maryville is a close contender for the place. These games will be hotly contested. Many other special features are arranged for.

The basket dinner will be one of the special features of the day. It is to be in Normal park, and all the conveniences necessary will be provided for the comfort of the out-of-town people. As the attractions during the afternoon are to be held in Normal park, seats and other conveniences will be provided. In the evening the attractions will be around the court house square.

Many of the business houses will close from noon on that day.

A special invitation is extended to all to attend the celebration and be the guests of Maryville on that day.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB WAS ORGANIZED

An automobile club was formed Thursday evening of the autoists of this city. The club will be known as the Maryville Automobile club, and the object of the organization is for sociability runs, and everything of interest to the automobilists. George L. Wiley was elected president of the club, George Conrad vice president, Luther Forsyth secretary, and Earl Anderson treasurer.

CONCRETE WALK NEARING COMPLETION

The work on the concrete walk through the Normal grounds to the railroad crossing on Seventh street is progressing rapidly and will soon be finished.

The drive from the main entrance of the grounds to the building will be rebuilt in the near future. All of the concrete which was torn up from the floors of the building this summer has been hauled and dumped along the drive. It will be crushed and spread over the drive, and on top a finer dressing will be applied, insuring a firm, dry road under all conditions.

Tom is Dead.

Tom, who for nine years has faithfully served the fire department, died Thursday night, after a week's illness of indigestion. Tom was 13 years old, and although he had reached the age when horses are supposed to be too old for work, he was as eager to respond to the call of the fire bell, and was as vigorous and quick in making a run as when he first began.

Miss Carrie Silvester of St. Joseph, Mrs. Jennie O'Hell of Barnard and Robert Campbell of Guilford were in Maryville on business Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Davison went to Hopkins Friday to visit over Sunday with Mr. Davison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Davison. The senior Mr. Davison is improving from his illness.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Moran of Page county, Ia., were in the city Friday. They went to Rosendale to visit Mrs. Moran's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilson.

Rev. A. C. Brown of Bolckow spent Thursday night in the city.

STORESBROKEN INTO

AT ELMO THURSDAY NIGHT, BUT NOT MUCH WAS TAKEN.

EVEN TOOK ICE CREAM

From the Anderson Restaurant—No Clues Have Been Discovered This Afternoon.

Sheriff Tilson received word Friday morning that three or four stores in Elmo were broken into during the night Thursday by burglars. Nothing of value was taken from any of the stores.

The business houses broken into were the general merchandise store of Mrs. S. F. Joy-McCurdy, S. E. Curdutt, five and ten-cent store; John Bush, grocery, and the Anderson restaurant.

At the Joy-McCurdy store the safe was found unlocked by the robbers and only 75 cents was taken. It is supposed that the robbers made their entrance to this store by knocking out the window in the back door.

Just a few pairs of suspenders were taken from the Curdutt store. Entrance into this store was gained by breaking a window. At the Anderson restaurant only some ice cream was missing.

No clues had been found at press time this afternoon. Deputy Sheriff Wallace went to Elmo Friday morning.

Word from Elmo this afternoon was that the livery stable man heard, he thought, two or three men walking around about 2 o'clock this morning.

DON'T EXPERIMENT.

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Maryville Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in Maryville. Follow the advice of a Maryville citizen and be cured yourself.

Mrs. A. Weidman, East Thompson street, Maryville, Mo., says: "I had terrible pains in my kidneys and was also bothered by the kidney secretions. The contraction of a cold or a change in the weather was sure to increase my suffering. I used every remedy that I thought would help me, but met with indifferent success. I had about despaired of ever finding relief, when I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured a box at Charles A. Love's drug store and found them to be especially adapted to my case. I was soon free from all aches and pains and my kidneys were restored to a normal condition. I have enjoyed excellent health since then and I know that my cure is a permanent one."

PASSED THROUGH CITY ON WAY TO HONOLULU

A large gray fifty horsepower Stoddard Dayton automobile arrived in Maryville Friday on its way from New York to Honolulu. The trip is being made in the interests of the American Sanitary works of New York City, and is purely a business venture. The party is composed of Mr. B. O. Tilden, president of the American Sanitary works, and Mr. William White and L. P. Gladden of Kansas City. They are visiting their agents, the architects, plumbers and trowel authorities of the cities through which they pass in the interest of their sanitary plumbing fixtures.

The car left New York April 20th, and its total mileage is 7,146. The trip has been a round about one through South Carolina and other southern Atlantic states, north to Pennsylvania, through West Virginia, Ohio, Tennessee, Kentucky and then west. They expect to reach San Francisco August 10, where they will embark for Honolulu.

The car is especially equipped for any kind of an emergency.

One of the most interesting attachments on the car is a ten-pipe Gabriel horn and keyboard, which can be played upon like an organ. The music of this horn brought many people from the stores out into the streets as the car passed through town this afternoon.

CLEANER FOOD AS THE RESULT OF A STATE LAW

Missourians are to have cleaner food as the result of a state law which became effective Monday, June 19. It regulates the handling of all food products and provides for the sanitation of buildings where the food is made or handled.

The law regulates the sanitation of bakeries, canneries, confectioneries, restaurants, hotels, groceries, markets, and all other places where food is prepared, stored or distributed. One of the main provisions is the necessity of having screened all buildings where food is offered for sale. This is a move against the fly and will result in a large sum being paid for screens.

The new law is very complete. It is not a revision of the pure food law, but fits in with it, providing for the distribution of foods in a sanitary way.

The fly screen provision is as follows: The doors, windows and other openings of every food producing or distributing establishment during the fly season shall be fitted with self-closing screen doors and wire window screens of not coarser than 14-mesh wire screen.

To insure cleanliness on the part of persons engaged in making foods, the law provides that all operatives, employees, clerks and others who handle material from which food is prepared, shall, after having left their work temporarily, wash their hands and arms thoroughly with soap and clean water. Cuspidors are provided for and they must be cleaned out daily. Promiscuous spitting is prohibited in the following language: "No operative, employee, or other person shall expectorate on the floor or sidewalks of any building, room, basement or cellar where the production, manufacture, packing, storing, preparation or sale of food is conducted."

Sleeping is prohibited in any room of a bakery, kitchen, dining room, confectionery, or place where food is prepared, served or sold.

Twenty diseases are enumerated, the possession of which will disqualify persons working in places where food is made or distributed. Minute directions are given in the law for the sanitary arrangements of the buildings affected and provision must be made for the comfort of employees.

The penalty for a violation of the law is a fine of $10 to $100 or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than thirty days, or both fine and imprisonment.

Marguerite Cummins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Cummins. All were in complete Japanese costume, and the bride even wore the veil, and all acquitted themselves most charmingly, as did also the ladies in waiting, Misses Mayne and Anna Dooley, Miss Charlotte Murrin, Mrs. P. M. Gallagher of Houston, Texas; Miss Frances Smith of Oklahoma City and her guest, Miss Winnie Remley of Columbia, Mo. There was much tea drinking and saunas innumerable through the ceremony, but they went through it all without a mistake. The Japanese room was very popular all evening, and its beauty showed much work on the part of those in charge, who were the ladies in waiting at the wedding. They served ice tea and wafers in true Japanese style, and cherries, and gave tiny fans as souvenirs. The costumes were decidedly fetching.

The Indian room was another fine place, and if there was one thing lacking to make it a perfect Indian home on the banks of a river, it is not known what it could be. The scenery was beautiful and the collection of Indian regalia was complete. Miss Mayne Tobin, who was in charge, served a most refreshing drink, that looked like "firewater." A real Indian canoe looked tempting by the river, tied to a tree, while the company of Indians in full costume, enjoying their meal of corn and beans in true Indian fashion, was fascinating to everybody.

The German room, in charge of Mrs. John Hansen, Mrs. Burt M. Rowley and Mrs. R. G. Koch, was made to represent a German garden perfectly. Food buttermilk in mugs, sandwiches, pretzels, coffee and schmierkase made the fine Dutch lunch that was served here. The ladies were in full Holland colors, red and black, with the Stars and Stripes and German flag waved among the trees of the garden.

From the many colors in these rooms it was refreshing to go to the Irish room, where the bright green and gold of Erin's Isle was so beautifully shown. The flag owned by the Irish-American society of Clyde was much admired. One that attracted much attention was dated July 13, 1879, which date marked the beginning of the I. A. B. society, that resulted in the organization of St. Patrick's church. Killarney roses and shamrocks were effectively used among the decorations in the Irish room, and a golden harp on the piano, bordered with shamrocks, completed everything.

The singing of Irish ballads Thursday night was by Richard and Dennis Collins, Miss May Parle and Miss Anna Collins.

The ladies of St. Patrick's parish are to be congratulated on the success of the opening. The weather was exceeding hot and prevented many from coming, but it was successful beyond their expectations. It was one of the prettiest church events that has taken place in our city.

Mrs. B. O. Fleming left Thursday evening for St. Joseph and Savannah.

Elder Ogden will speak at the gospel tent meeting tonight.

GETTING DOWN TO BRASS TACKS.

Getting right down to brass tacks, there isn't another investment in the whole range of securities accessible to Missourians that promises so large and certain a dividend as the new state capital enterprise. The outlay of the two cents on the $100 assessed valuation, required to rebuild the capitol, will come trooping back in dollars of increased value in farm lands and town lots. Demands for homes sends the price of real estate soaring; homeseekers pass by the non-progressive, moss-back states for the ones populated by a live, wide-awake, progressive people. Let Missourians refuse to rebuild her state capitol and land buyers will forget that she is on the map—who wants to locate in a dead state full of knockers? Out flash the news over the world as the sun comes up on August 2d that Missourians are live wises, who do things; that a new capitol is to rise, Phoenix-like, from the ashes of the old one, splendid and adequate in all its appointments; that the proposition carried by practically a solid vote, and you will see the tide of immigration start for this magnificent commonwealth. All eyes will be turned toward Missouri, and the real estate men in all states about us will be telling their customers what a goodly heritage of land and people we have.

A CAPITOLLESS CAPITAL.

Missouri, the greatest state in the Union, is the only state that has no capitol building. This fact does not reflect upon the enterprise and loyalty of Missourians, and will not until they vote down a proposition to rebuild the capitol destroyed by lightning, which will be never. Just watch the spirit of progress in this grand old state embrace the first opportunity to build a new capitol.

IN DEFENSE OF ROOSEVELT

Madison of Kansas Answers Attack Made by Earle.

MADE APPEALS IN WRITING.

Witness Says Former President Did Not Send All Correspondence in Case to Senate and Reads Some of the Letters.

Washington, June 30.—An attack on former President Roosevelt on the ground that he had not prosecuted the so called sugar trust, made before the house sugar committee by George H. Earle of Philadelphia, aroused a vigorous defense of Mr. Roosevelt by Representative Madison of Kansas, who said the former president relied on Attorney General Bonaparte for advice and there was no evidence before the committee to show he had acted from improper motives.

Mr. Madison insisted upon reading Mr. Bonaparte's decision in the sugar trust case, upon which he declared Mr. Roosevelt had to lean.

"You gentlemen will never prosecute anybody if you try to find excuses for officers who neglect their duty," said Mr. Earle.

"I am not attempting to excuse Mr. Bonaparte," said Mr. Madison. "The president of the United States relied on his law officer for advice and there is no evidence before this committee that the president acted from improper motives. I don't agree with the opinion of the attorney general. I am one of those people of Kansas who still believe in the integrity of Mr. Roosevelt."

"It is just that you should," said Mr. Earle. "I'll trust the people of Kansas to judge whether it is right for the president not to act when he knew that his ad interim attorney general, Mr. Purdy, was anxious to proceed and that there was valuable evidence that might be lost."

"I offered to debate this matter with Mr. Roosevelt in New York, but he did not accept my challenge and neglected an opportunity to overwhelm me. Do you think the people of Kansas will say that the president did his full duty in neglecting that case? How are you going to punish crime if you are constantly changing law officers and do nothing in the interim?"

Letters to Roosevelt Read.

Mr. Earle read again the letters that Mr. Roosevelt did not send to the senate with the correspondence in the case.

"I criticized the president for that," continued Mr. Earle. "Mr. Roosevelt told the senate that it was right to send the correspondence to the senate and then he did not send the communications from me that might have reflected upon him. If that was right, then I was wrong."

"Do you have any doubt that Mr. Roosevelt was a sincere opponent of the immoral practices of great organizations of capital?" asked Representative Hinds.

"I would rather not answer that question," said Mr. Earle.

After reading the history of the case, Mr. Earle touched upon the tragic results, including the physical collapse of Adolph Segal, the death of Gustave Kissel and the suicide of Frank H. Hipple.

"Chairman Hardwick queried the witness about the tariff matters. 'I think with Garfield,' said Mr. Earle, 'that the tariff is a good thing when it leads to free trade.'"

Then the testimony shifted to an argument on the Sherman anti-trust law, and reviews of supreme court decisions.

"I have my suspicions of anyone who would change the Sherman act," said Mr. Earle. "It is the best tested law in the world and dates back to the time of Zeno in Greek and Roman times."

Adolph Segal of Philadelphia, so ill that his counsel asked the committee to be considerate of him, testified about the blocking of his efforts to sell the stocks and bonds of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company. He declared that he believed at the time that Mr. Havemeyer was responsible for his difficulty.

Mandate Issued in Tobacco Case.

Kirkville, Mo., June 30.—New world's records for Jersey cattle were made here when two bulls and one cow brought $26,435 at the annual Kin-loch farm sale. Viola's Golden Jolly, a seven-year-old bull, born at St. Queen, island of Jersey, was sold for $13,000 to Dr. Scoville of the Ellen-dort Farms, Lexington, Ky. He was purchased by Dr. Still and Laughlin of the Kinloch Farms for $12,000 two years ago, which was the record price at that time. Jolly Royal Sultan, a two-year-old bull, sold for $10,000. Majesty's Lady Houhla, six years old, brought $3,525, said to be the big-est price ever paid for a Jersey cow.

Troops May Be Withdrawn.
Washington, June 30.—President Taft has under consideration the with-drawal of troops now forming the ma-neuver division in Texas. A final de-cision will be reached at the cabinet meeting today and the indications are that the withdrawals will begin im-mediate and be completed within a month. Improved conditions in Mex-ico and unusual discomforts suffered by the soldiers are the reasons as-signed.

WOMANLY WISDOM.

(July Farm Journal.)

Always put off till tomorrow what is wrong to be done today.

Heat your knife before cutting hard soap.

Wet a cloth with soda on it and clean up the kitchen floor.

Jelly from is most sure right.

Put a few grains of rice in your salt shakers. They will break the lumps, gather the moisture and make the salt come out freely.

Glue pieces of felt or pieces of old rubbers to the bottom of the chair legs and there will be no scratched floors and less noise.

Emergency glue may be made of a ball a handful of rice in water and a thick fine paste. Very good for sticking white paper.

In making cake with fruit in it, beat first than all butter. I have known hard and beef suet to give good results.

When a ham or smoked tongue has been boiled, try plunging it in cold water as soon as removed from the fire; this will make the skin come off easily and smoothly.

A handy way to remove pies and cakes from a hot oven is to use a common shingle. Cut away the thick end into the shape of a handle. Bore a

Berney Harris, Maryville's Leading Clothier

I am enabled to put on this wonderful cut price sale "without any loss to me" caused principally by two large deals which I made. One was purchased from M. Wile & Co., Buffalo, N. Y., Clothes of Quality makers---surplus spring stock of Men's Blue Serge and Fancy all wool Cassimer and Worsted Suits at extremely low prices.

The second being from Ferguson McKinney D. G. Co., St. Louis, on their "well known own makes" of Shirts, etc. During May they wrote me several letters asking if I would do my part so they could show an increase for May of "One Hundred Thousand Dollars." I took no notice of same until their representative called and asked him what Ferguson McKinney D. G. Co., would do for me, if I helped them get this increase, which I presumed they wanted for advertising purposes----we came to an understanding, I now give the patrons of this sale the full benefit of this great deal.

"The below prices should talk" but the goods will speak louder than printers' ink could describe them. Come before the sale closes.

Free Remedy For Weak Bowels

There are two forms of bodily cleanliness, the external and the internal. The one is for your pride in yourself; the other for your life and health. Both are important, but of vastly more importance in the long run is the internal cleanliness.

This is one point that all should watch about their body—the cleanliness of the bowels. Keep them clean and free from obstructions. To do this you must have one or two movements of the bowels each twenty-four hours. If your system does not do this naturally, in the process of eating and drinking, then you must obtain aid of some kind. After finding out that cathartics, salts and such things harm you for a day, but blind you up worse than ever the next day, then try a simpler and more natural remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

For the skeptical the best way to begin is to send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell for a free sample bottle. Use it as directed and if it convinces you that a brief continuance of its use will relieve you permanently—that it will train the stomach and bowel muscles to again work naturally at certain hours—then buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing. They began with a sample bottle, then bought a fifty cent bottle, and now, fully convinced of its merits, they buy the one dollar family size. All the members of the family can use it down to the very youngest.

A brief use of this grand laxative tonic will cure constipation in its worst form, indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and such ailments and keep you in continuous good health at a very small cost. Such is the experience of many families like that of Mrs. Oscar Fleener, Unionville, Ind. J. P. Decker, Saron, Tex., and hundreds of others that could be named.

Everybody Knows Something About Lumber Values

these days, but the homebuilder who listens to the cry of "wait until lumber is cheaper" is not apt to be any nearer his goal on his deathbed than he is today. The Government recommends TIMBER CONSERVATION and this alone is proof that lumber has a fixed value.

Our years of experience in buying and selling lumber lead us to advise our friends that NOW'S THE TIME TO BUILD. There's but one crop of timber for most of us. If you contemplate a new home we want to talk with you—we have all grades of lumber. The lowest quality starts at good and goes up. Give us a call and learn the facts about these lumber values.

SAVE YOUR HAIR; SAGE TEA WILL DO IT

Dandruff, Itching Scalp and Falling Hair Quickly Stopped.

There is one place where bald-headed men shine, and that is in the front seats of the theatre. If these bald-headed people had used Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy in the earlier days they would not be so conspicuous now. This preparation does not plant new hair, but it does prevent the hair from falling out, and not only keeps the hair from falling out, but gradually restores the color to faded or gray hair. It is a clean, wholesome hair dressing, which can be used daily with perfect safety.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is sold under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as recommended.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Koch Pharmacy.
